

The Swiss Institute of Equine Medicine (ISME) at the University of Bern, Switzerland is seeking an

Equine Surgeon

The available employment is a part-time position, providing time to study for specialty boards or participation in ongoing clinical research projects (if desired). The main responsibility will involve coverage of the emergency service during nights and weekends, teaching undergraduate and graduate students, and contributions to in-house CE events.

The ISME Equine Clinic Bern is one of the largest equine referral centers in Switzerland, with a state-of-the-art surgical infrastructure and imaging modalities, including standing and intraoperative CT-imaging. The surgical caseload is diverse with a high proportion of trauma and colic cases.

Qualifications include Dr Med Vet or equivalent and completion of residency program in equine surgery. Basic language proficiency in German and/or French is appreciated.

Preference will be given to ECVS/ACVS Diplomates or board eligible applicants.

The position is available as of now.

Applicants are kindly requested to send a letter of intent addressed to Dr. C. Koch, curriculum vitae and names of three references by e-mail to the ISME office: info.bern@ismequine.ch
